HISTORY AND FOUNDING

Alteryx was originally founded as SRC LLC in 1997 by current Chief Executive Officer (CEO), Dean Stoecker; current Chief Customer Officer (CCO), Olivia Duane Adams; and former Chief Technology Officer (CTO), Ned Harding, with the vision to build software products that help organizations get deeper insights about their business. The founders renamed the company “Alteryx” or “Alter YX” in 2010, a name that came from the relationship of altering latitude and longitude in the spatial environment for building analytical processes—the focus of the company at that time. Through their leadership and passion, the company quickly began revolutionizing business through data science and analytics.
